Jonathan Carter Director BArch(Hons) RIBA

Jonathan is passionate about urban design and is very influential in guiding design issues within the Rolfe Judd. He has played a significant role on many of the practice's most important projects, particularly on tight urban sites where planning issues demand a particularly high level of response.

Beyond planning, his knowledge and skills in design and construction, coupled with a pragmatic and practical approach, enable him to add real value to any project in the hugely important transition from concept to built form.

Jonathan studied at Newcastle University School of Architecture and qualified in 1985. He joined Rolfe Judd in 1987 following experience working with Arup Associates and The Arnold and Boston Partnership. He has been a Director of Rolfe Judd for the past 10 years.

Scandinavia House 336 Strand London WC2

Client: Strand Property Holdings Ltd
Planning permission for proposals to redevelop a major island site, including the listed former Gaiety Restaurant/ Marconi House, into a new headquarters office building.

Chinatown London W1

Client: Shaftesbury Plc
Project Director for several proposals for one of the major land owners in Chinatown - ranging from general improvements to the urban environment and infrastructure to the preparation of a planning application for the conversion of two important existing buildings into contemporary mixed restaurant / retail use thereby maximising their commercial potential.

Cambridge Business & Cultural Centre

Client: Ashwell Property Group / Network Rail
A major masterplanning project, for which Rolfe Judd is working in collaboration with Cambridge City Council, Cambridgeshire County Council and all interested stakeholders, to create a successful framework for a transportation interchange and mixed-use urban quarter covering 8 hectares.

10 Berners Mews London W1

Client: The Osborne Group
Project Associate on the refurbishment and extension of a 1950s office building to form new headquarters for ABTA and The Osborne Group. The concept of the project involved the rebranding of a very tired 1950s building to create a desirable, contemporary office environment to a very tight cost plan.

Hasilwood House 60 Bishopsgate London EC2

Client: Prudential Property Investment Managers Ltd
Project Associate for the complex rebuilding and refurbishment of the Grade II listed building after it had suffered very severe damage in the Bishopsgate bomb of 1993. Situated next door to St. Ethelburgers Church which was virtually completely destroyed, the initial stages of the job required all the fabric and structure to be assessed before the building was completely restored and refurbished to create a more rational internal layout than had existed prior to the damage.
